Hearing aid expert gives sound advice!

Hearing & Mobility are hosting their Special Hearing Open Week from Monday 10th to Friday 14th August 2009 at the Northampton store.

The Open Week is an ideal event for those with hearing related concerns to seek friendly advice. Hearing & Mobility are proud to welcome eminent Hearing Aid Audiologist Mr Lee Newton RHAD to his Special Hearing Open Week providing those with hearing related concerns an ideal opportunity to seek friendly advice on better hearing.

Mr. Newton explains;

“Nowadays, modern healthcare is all about choices. But, with so much information available, how do you make the right choice?

Many people don't appreciate that finding the right hearing aid for you can be a big decision. There are so many hearing aid companies that you may have never heard of and so much choice to take on board. Who can you turn to for help? How can you be sure of getting the right advice? Maybe you have had a bad experience in the past?

You may also be wondering if you really need a hearing aid. What are the differences between an NHS aid and a private aid? How do you arrange a free trial of an aid? What safeguards are there? I want to help you make informed choices about your hearing concerns.”

At the Special Hearing Open Week experience the ground breaking permanent sound booth... exclusively available at Hearing & Mobility. This unique, state of the art testing facility allows you to have a personal hearing check-up with Mr. Newton RHAD, all within the privacy of the booth at your local store.

As part of the experience a Video Otoscopy examination allows you the opportunity to see your ears like you've never seen them before – on a colour TV monitor in complete privacy. This allows you and Mr Lee Newton RHAD to see exactly what is going on inside your ear.

Hearing & Mobility are pleased to offer you this enhanced level of hearing care, which involves no discomfort at all. If, following a comprehensive hearing assessment, a hearing loss is discovered, you will be offered the opportunity to actually see, try and hear for yourself, the very latest in hearing aid technology – which will be fully programmed and configured to your individual hearing needs, using your test results.

Within the booth you can try your ideal sounding hearing aid with the latest NXT audio technology. This will enable you to test the hearing aid with real life everyday background sounds, such as in a restaurant or a crowded room. Compare your hearing with our latest hearing aids. You and your family will be amazed at the clarity of hearing, even when you are in background noise.

Everyone's hearing circumstances are different; your hearing problems are unique to you, so if you would like to hear more about our service or have any questions, we hope that you'll feel free to get in touch with us to arrange a free consultation without obligation, when you can ask Mr Lee Newton as many questions as you like.

Hearing Aids Q&A's

If you are unsure about anything, our fully qualified hearing aid audiologists are there to help you with any queries you may have.

Q If I start to wear a hearing aid will it make my own hearing worse?

A No. A correctly fitted aid cannot make your hearing deteriorate. Using an aid, in fact, relieves you of straining to hear.

Q I don't want to commit myself to buying an aid right away - should I still have a hearing test?

A Yes, your test is completely without obligation and we would certainly not want to put you under any pressure at all to have a hearing aid. Our dispenser will give you his best advice. It's always wise to know the type and above all the cost of an aid to suit your own requirements should you decide at a later date.

Q I see so many different types of hearing aids advertised. Are they all available from Hearing & Mobility?

A Yes. Because Hearing & Mobility are independent hearing aid audiologists and not manufacturers, we have every type of aid to choose from, so that our dispenser can offer you the best possible aid for your particular problem.

Q I know I don't need to wear an aid all the time. I can hear quite well when just one person is speaking. Can Hearing & Mobility help this very mild type of deafness?

A This is actually one of the most common types of hearing loss. A tiny aid worn right in the ear is often the answer. It can be popped in quickly and simply and it's so comforting to know that help is there, ready for whenever you need it.

Scooters are giving freedom to thousands, to visit friends, town, the pub, wherever you like.

We have an unbeatable range of mobility scooters, heavy-duty scooters and power chairs to make many routine tasks easier for those who are disabled or suffer from impaired mobility. Don't miss out on our In-Store consultation service.

Your hearing test

Hearing & Mobility are opening more and more purpose built hearing test booths in our branches all over the country, especially for people like you who want to know more about how hearing can be improved. With local hearing aid audiological experts to give free advice you will be able to find out what types of hearing aids are now available and the type of hearing problems that can benefit from the latest advances in technology.

Call in to arrange an appointment and SEE, TRY and HEAR for yourself in a relaxed and friendly environment, the latest digital technology available from world leading manufacturers including Siemens, Phonak and GN Resound.

FREE Audiometric Test

We analyse your hearing to give you a clear picture...

Once the history of your hearing loss has been discussed and your ears examined, your hearing aid dispenser will carry out a hearing test. The hearing test itself is known as an audiometric test. You are asked to listen to a range of pure tones varying from low frequencies to high - measuring your hearing range accurately. That's all there is to it!

As the test progresses, the results are plotted on a chart called an audiogram (as illustrated on the right). This gives an accurate analysis of the extent of your hearing loss and forms the basis from which the Hearing Aid Dispenser will advise you on the best form of hearing care for your particular needs.

This audiogram shows a slight hearing loss, greater in the left ear than the right. A tiny canal aid was recommended, just for the left ear to enhance the clarity.

These results show a considerable hearing loss in both ears. Our hearing aid dispenser recommended a behind-the-ear hearing aid for both ears to increase the understanding of speech.

Video Otoscope System

Let us show you what is really happening inside...

Our Video Otoscope System lets us view a live colour image of your own eardrum and ear canal on the video monitor.

and gives you the opportunity to see your ears like you've never seen them before. It also allows our dispenser to assess their condition more accurately.

The Video Otoscope involves no discomfort at all

We actively encourage you to bring a family member to your consultation as experience has proved that a familiar voice for a speech clarity test is a great help. Your family or friend will be pleased to share in the experience of your audiometric hearing assessment and our hearing aid consultant will be happy to answer any questions you or they may have about your hearing.

Swine flu sufferers told not to spread virus at surgeries

PEOPLE struck down by swine flu have been urged to seek treatment from home rather than spreading the virus by visiting hospitals or GP surgeries.

Health bosses are urging anyone with flu-like symptoms to get diagnosed via websites or over the telephone.

However, despite the advice, both Northampton General Hospital (NGH) and Kettering General Hospital (KGH) are still seeing people with swine flu symptoms going into their A&E departments and potentially contaminating vulnerable people.

Dr Nathan Spencer, a clinical lead for pandemic flu, said NGH had contingency plans to isolate unwanted swine flu patients who ignored warnings and still turned up, but it did not want to have to use them.

He said "We are very concerned about this because clearly patients in A&E waiting rooms can already be very ill; catching swine flu could make them a lot worse."

"It is not just accident and emergency – patients in the rest of the hospital could be affected by people walking in here with swine flu.

"The staff are doing an excellent job. Frustrated is the wrong word but it is difficult for staff who are caring for other patients to have swine flu brought into the hospital."

Neither NGH nor any other hospital will treat swine flu patients in A&E and will not administer the Tamiflu antiviral drug. Dr Spencer said: "I can understand people are worried about swine flu but at the moment it seems to be minor and self-limiting."

Many GPs said the public had been responsible about seeking treatment. But Dr Tony Hillier, of Blisworth Surgery, part of the practice which includes Grange Park and Roade surgeries, said: "The only difficulty is when children with swine flu have to be seen because they are a high-risk group.

"If we really have to see someone with the symptoms we have a room to take them to, which isolates them while they're assessed."

Going out with a bang

CROWDS lined the streets of Northampton to cheer on county veterans, as the Northamptonshire Regiment Association marched off for the final time.

Veterans from the association – some of whom fought in the Second World War – were joined by current soldiers from the area as they paraded down Abington Street to mark the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Talavera and the disbanding of the association, which has been wound up because of the dwindling number of veterans.

Among the veterans were 21 officers, 70 soldiers of other ranks and a number of Chelsea Pensioners.

David Knight, who joined the Northamptonshire Regiment in 1953 and served in the army until 1973, said: "It's been a very painful day today. It's been sad over the years to see fewer people coming to the reunions because they have passed on, but it was absolutely brilliant to see the crowds as we marched – there won't have been a man marching without a tear in his eye.

"It's the end of one era but the beginning of a new one. It's a bittersweet occasion."

The Battle of Talavera, fought in Spain exactly 200 years ago, was the Northamptonshire Regiment's most important battle honour.

The regiment was amalgamated in 1960 and became the Royal Anglians in 1964, with the regimental association still remaining.

On Saturday, traffic was halted as current soldiers from C (Northamptonshire) Company, the 2nd Battalion, Royal Anglian Regiment, passed along Clare Street, Earl Street and Upper and Lower Mounts to Abington Street, with drivers getting out of their cars to watch the parade.

The veterans formed up behind C Company and the group then paraded to All Saints Church, where the Duke of Gloucester received the salute.

Col Peter Worthy, president of the Northamptonshire Regiment Association, then requested permission for the association to march off for a final time.

He said: "It's a very sad occasion but we've gone out with a bang. I'm absolutely thrilled by the turnout, I think the crowds were fantastic and the soldiers were first class.

"We are a family. This is the most fantastic family."

Stay at school is the message

■ Northampton College in Booth Lane. School leavers are being urged to stay in education because of the downturn in the economy

AN EXTRA £6.5 million funding is to be allocated to Northamptonshire as part of Government measures to try to encourage school leavers to stay in learning during the recession.

The money will be used to provide an extra 780 places at sixth form centres and further education colleges across the county in order to ensure every school leaver who wants to stay on in education or training will have a place at school, college, in training or an apprenticeship guaranteed for this September and the next.

The news has met with approval from MPs in the county.

Sally Keeble, MP for Northampton North, said: "This is excellent news. All the evidence shows people without qualifications fare the worst in the jobs market, particularly when there's a recession."

"Going back and getting properly equipped with qualifications and skills is always going to be money well spent."

"Research shows if young people leave school and have a spell of unemployment it is much harder for them to get a job. I would urge people to stay on in education, get proper skills and only look for a job when they have got good qualifications to their name."

A total of 2,678 more places at sixth form centres and further education colleges are to be made available across the East Midlands over the next two years, at a cost of more than £29.5 million.

The extra funding forms part of Government investment of more than £655 million to provide an extra 55,000 places in sixth forms, colleges and training for 16 to 18-year-olds.

But Brian Binley, MP for Northampton South, warned the measures would fail if they were not being introduced for the right reasons.

He said: "If it's about helping young people compete in the world of work, be better prepared for work and have more skills than I'm all for it, but if it is primarily simply to keep people off the unemployment register then the level of thought needed will not be put into it and it will not have the drive it needs to succeed."

Reacting to the news, John Bexson, vice principal of learning at Northampton College, said: "It is great news the Government has made this financial commitment to help us offer places to all the young people who have expressed an interest in joining us in September."

We are experiencing unprecedented demand for places across all types of programmes and will do our best to ensure as many as possible are able to follow their interests and ambitions."

Spa plan near to Cobblers stadium

A HOTEL firm has revealed plans to build a luxury spa complex next to Northampton Town Football Club's ground at Sixfields.

South Northamptonshire firm Willow Inns has submitted plans to the West Northamptonshire Development Corporation (WNDC) to build a six-storey hotel on land at Duston Mill Lane, next to Upton Way and just yards away from land where the football club hopes to build its own hotel.

The firm, which is based in Blakesley, has put together plans for a four-star, 112-bedroom hotel which would also feature a gym, a bar and restaurant, a swimming pool and a three-storey spa building which would be open to the public.

In documents submitted to the WNDC, the firm said it could see no reason why the development would not be given planning permission.

It said: "It is clear from the plans that the hotel could be developed in such a way that it relates to the surrounding environment and represents a landmark building at this gateway to Northampton. Both the potential design of the hotel and the proposed design of the spa facility are contemporary and reflect good quality architecture."

The spa section of the hotel would include private treatment rooms, relaxation rooms, a wet room and a juice bar.

It is not yet known if the developers have spoken to the football club, but the company has confirmed it has held talks with the WNDC, officers from Northampton Borough Council, the Environment Agency, Northamptonshire County Council and the Wildlife Trust, which manages the Storton's Pitts nature reserve, which is next to the site.

Nobody from the football club was available to comment but fans have expressed concern.

The football club has been planning to build a hotel on a section of its car park for a number of years. It is thought the club would expect to make about £1million from its development.

Cheap street up for grabs

THE DEVELOPERS of a Northampton version of Monopoly have been unable to find an area of the town to take up the board's least desirable square.

Board game makers revealed they were creating a Northampton version of Monopoly earlier this year.

Already, the Chron has been placed on Fleet Street and both Althorp and the Guildhall have been given two of the most prestigious squares.

But the brown square which is traditionally filled by Old Kent Road and sells for just £60, has not yet been taken.

Mark Marriott, from board game firm Winning Moves, said: "We're having sleepless nights over this."

"We need to put the game to bed very soon so it can hit shelves in October in time for Christmas."

"But we can't find anyone who wants Old Kent Road. We've filled most of the other spaces and have been over-subscribed many times over, but when we sound people out about Old Kent Road we don't get our calls returned. Some people even think it's a wind-up."

In a bid to solve the problem, the company has asked residents to come up with suggestions for areas of the town or well-known landmarks which could take up the Old Kent Road square.

The Mayor of Northampton, Michael Hill, said he could not think of anywhere appropriate and was pleased there seemed to be no obvious suggestions.

He said: "I think it's just proof of the fact Northampton's a nice place to live in."

"It is after all a town with a thousand years of history which was once considered to be one of the top three or four most important in the country."

Possible areas which have been suggested as occupiers for Old Kent Road include Northampton's bus station, Ecton Lane's sewage works and the so-called 'rat island', which is outside the bus station.

But Northampton Borough Council's cabinet member for communities, Councillor Paul Varnsberry (Lib Dem, West Hunsbury) suggested a formerly run-down area in the town centre could be ideal for the space.

He said: "I think we should be looking at an area that was perhaps down at heel, but has now been regenerated."

"Perhaps we could look at somewhere like Woolmonger Street, which was really bad a while ago, but now has the nice Pinnacle flats development on it."

Suggestions for the Old Kent Road square can be made by emailing oldkentroad@winningmoves.co.uk before the deadline of Thursday, August 6.

■ Sharon Skinner with the remains of the Allchin steam roller at the Northampton & Lamport Railway

Five-year steam roller renovation

MORE than £300 has been raised towards the restoration of Northampton's best-loved steam roller.

The remains of the 100-year-old Allchin steam roller were put on display at the Northampton and Lamport railway at the weekend after being moved from Northampton Borough Council's depot in St James where they had been left for the past 12 years.

Kingsthorpe resident Sharon Skinner, who is leading the restoration with her husband Julian, said the remains of the roller had been one of the star attractions at the vintage show.

She said: "We had quite a few people taking pictures and stopping to look at it."

The couple now plan to restore the roller over the next five years.

Mrs Skinner said: "The first thing is to get it inside and protect it from the weather. It's taken us six years to get to this point."

During the weekend, steam enthusiasts donated about £350 to the restoration project, which is expected to cost about £25,000 in total. To make a donation call Mr Skinner on 07779 760961.

Aldi plans in the spotlight

SHOPPERS and politicians have been given the chance to view the plans for a proposed Aldi supermarket in Weston Favell, Northampton.

The German-owned chain is hoping to use a vacant site in Wellingborough Road to build the store and is due to submit a planning application to Northampton Borough Council next month.

Yesterday a public exhibition was held at Weston Favell Primary School which detailed the layout and design of the 2.86-acre supermarket site.

Conservative MP for Northampton South, Brian Binley, who attended the event, said he was worried about an increase in traffic on the Wellingborough Road caused by the development.

Mr Binley said: "I am concerned about the traffic problems with the entrance and the exit.

■ Architect Daniel Neville and resident Ken Giles study the plans for the new Aldi supermarket

"I'm not quite sure the design is in keeping with the area."

One of the nearby residents who attended the event, Margaret Thompson, said: "I don't think it is right in a residential area and it is going to take value off property in Wellingborough Road. We have enough traffic on the street as it is without having another car park."

But Jonathan Neale, property director for Aldi, said the company had undertaken a traffic impact assessment which concluded that the introduction of the new store would not cause any traffic problems as it would provide a more convenient store for local people, resulting in a reduced need to travel to other shops.

He said: "The location of the site was led by customer demand. In the current climate more people would like to be able to save 20 to 30 per cent on their shopping bills.

"We do not believe it will have a significant impact on traffic. Ideally, the store will be accessible by a choice of transport methods."

If Aldi is given planning permission by West Northamptonshire Development Corporation, it is hoped that the store would be open for business by summer 2010.

Club wins trophy in honour of Dale

A FOOTBALL tournament was held last weekend in memory of a talented player who died in an accident on a Northamptonshire road.

A total of 24 six-a-side teams took part at Spratton in memory of father-of-two Dale Stratford, aged 32, who died when his car hit a tree on the A422 near Farthinghoe, in May.

Members of the Whitehills Sunday football club, which Mr Stratford captained, joined other teams from the Sunday conference to honour the former player and raise money for his two daughters, Megan and Abi, by competing for the Dale Stratford Memorial Cup.

The cup, which was won on penalties by Whitehills, was presented by Dale's mother, Sandra Lemon, who attended the tournament along with his fiancée Sadie Simms and his two daughters.

The Home Improvement industry has for many years been developing ever more energy efficient products for a demanding consumer market place. One of the biggest household names in the industry 'Pilkington' have just launched K GLASS OW - with enhanced solar gain and brighter appearance enabling customers to achieve the maximum levels of heat retention and fuel savings.

John Connolly (pictured) Managing Director of Homesure said 'Last year I visited all the trade shows and listened closely to the things that my customers were asking for and realised that it was vital we pioneered the new energy efficient windows available from the manufacturers. In January of this year we took the lead and made energy rated windows available across our range of products. The results have been astonishing and I am pleased to say we are now breaking sales records for replacement windows and doors. I am very proud of the ways in which Homesure have led the local industry with driving prices down and giving customers the fairest deal.

Homesure are committed to providing the most energy efficient products for all our customers

Homesure Customers Reduce Energy Loss by 90%

You've probably heard that the amount of energy we waste in our homes is directly linked to climate change. You'll definitely have noticed the ever increasing cost of energy for heating your home. But did you know that the type of glass you use in your windows can help your home be more energy efficient?

By using Pilkington energyKare™ in your windows you will:

- Improve the energy efficiency of your home
- Save money on your heating bills
- Become more environmentally friendly!

Simply using Pilkington energyKare™ as the double glazing unit in your windows reduces the amount of energy lost through the windows by 80%! Homesure are the first Pilkington energyKare™ approved installer in the area and install this fantastic new glass with all its window range, ensuring every Homesure customer has the maximum benefits from replacement windows. Homesure have achieved a British Fenestration Rating Council (BFRC) Window Energy Rating on its product range of windows and doors and are still able to offer the very best deals around for local customers who are looking to achieve the best levels of energy savings whilst still choosing the most stylish designs available. Windows provide light and beauty into a home, unfortunately they can also be a major source of energy loss in our homes requiring increased energy from boilers and radiators to replace that heat which is lost; this results in an overall increased energy bill for the home.

Pilkington energyKare™ has been developed to prevent energy loss through their latest energy efficient glazing product. This energy efficient glazing not only returns heat back into the home greatly reducing heat loss, but it also maximises energy gain from a free energy source - solar energy. This makes Pilkington energyKare™ a leader in energy efficient glazing.

Homesure have for many years been the areas most popular choice for Home Improvements. Managing Director John Connolly said 'I always try and put myself in the shoes of my customers. I know I would want to have the very best and latest products on the market available to me at a reasonable and fair price. That is why I always make sure that Homesure is the first company to offer our customers products fitted as standard that make their new windows not only look great, but reduce fuel consumption and save as much money as possible. We have samples of the new energy efficient products for customers to view in our newly refurbished showroom. I invite customers to come along and join me for a cup of coffee and discuss any new windows, doors or even a conservatory they may be considering. I would be pleased to show them around."

Take A Look At The Benefits Of Pilkington energyKare

Installing windows containing Pilkington energyKare™ double glazed units provides you with many benefits:

- Improves the energy efficiency of your home
- Reduces the amount of energy you use
- Saves you money on your heating
- More effective than single glazing or standard double glazing
- Provides you with the reassurance of Pilkington quality
- Manufactured to the highest European quality standards
- Available from Homesure in the area

New Trading Standards regulations protects YOU too

New regulations came into force in October 2008 to protect consumers who may have felt pressured into placing an order for home improvements and wish to reconsider the contract. There can be many reasons why a decision may not seem as wise after a night's sleep. Especially one involving large amounts of money or non repeatable special offers. Sounds Familiar?

As one of the leading home improvement companies in the area, Homesure have launched a transparent pricing website. A simple to use, no details required, online quotation service. This enables homeowners to obtain reassurance and a comparative quote for their peace of mind.

Homesure would be delighted to offer assistance.

The Homesure Quote Clinic and Showroom

John Connolly, Homesure Managing Director says - "when I set up the business with my wife Susan in 1991, I was determined to provide a warm and welcoming way of doing business with local people. We set out a few simple guidelines that would ensure that it is always a pleasure to do business with us. No dubious sales techniques, false promises or underhand tactics, just straight forward good deals, a great product for a fair price. I am really proud to say, that over the many years that we have been doing business locally, our initial principals have not changed. I am convinced that the 15 to 20 new customers that choose us every week from Milton Keynes, Aylesbury, Bedford and the surrounding areas, do so because they appreciate the effort, dedication and commitment that all my staff put into making sure everything goes well from initial quotation to installation. We have now helped improve many, many thousands of homes around the area and look forward to maintaining our position as a most recommended local company who respect and cherish our customers. Therefore, I would like to invite you to have a FREE NO OBLIGATION QUOTATION or to visit our QUOTE CLINIC. Bring your window sizes, styles and maybe a photo to us for on the spot advice, design and quotation, you can see for yourself our range of products and finishes. This makes it easier for you to avoid the misfield of wasted evenings and high pressure sales techniques, and why so many people are saying 'We are glad we chose Homesure'. So be my guest, pop in for a coffee and a chat and some good old fashioned friendly service."

A little exclusivity makes its mark in luxury market

FOR many coupe owners, their cars are as much about looking good as they are about going quickly and it's much easier for a car to look good if the person doing the looking hasn't seen five of them already that day.

A little bit of exclusivity can go a long way towards getting your car noticed and the Infiniti G37 Coupe is a model that, in the short term at least, is going to have plenty.

Infiniti will be a new name to many in the UK. It's the luxury brand of Nissan cars, so the relationship bears a lot of similarity to that between Toyota and Lexus. Infiniti cars have been on sale in America and other markets since 1989. The brand punched through the 100,000 annual sales barrier in the US in 2003, so it's been a major player in the prestige car market over there for quite a while. It arrived in Europe with a well developed product range including a couple of SUVs and the G37, a compact executive saloon which is also offered as a convertible and the coupe we feature here.

The 3.7-litre engine is the very same that's found in the Nissan 370Z but it's been de-tuned slightly to generate 'only' 320bhp. This is where you should divorce the two cars in your mind because while the 326bhp Nissan is 4250mm long and 1525kg, the stretched chassis of the G37 is 4660mm and 1706kg. It's a far larger proposition with more of a focus on comfort and refinement. That said, it will still complete the 0-60mph sprint in under six seconds and lock horns with its speed limiter at 155mph. A more fitting comparison, and one that the G37 development engineers doubtless had in mind, is with the BMW 335i Coupe (306bhp, 1,600kg, 5.5s, 155mph).

Infiniti G37 Coupe

by Steve Walker

FACTS AT A GLANCE

CAR: Infiniti G37 Coupe
PRICES: £31,950 - £35,150 on the road
INSURANCE GROUP: 19

CO2 EMISSIONS: 248g/km
PERFORMANCE: 0-60mph 5.8s / top speed 155mph
FUEL CONSUMPTION: (combined) 26.9mpg

STANDARD SAFETY FEATURES: six airbags, ABS, ESP pop-up bonnet
WILL IT FIT IN YOUR GARAGE?: length/width/height (mm) 4660/1820/1400

Like the BMW 3-Series, the G37 Coupe is rear-wheel drive. Unlike it, the Infiniti can be specified with a four-wheel steering system. This works by applying small amounts of steering to the rear wheels in order to assist those at the front. It aids manoeuvrability, tightening the turning circle at low speeds, and increases stability at high speed. The standard gearbox is a six-speed manual, but there's also Infiniti's ASC Adaptive Shift Control automatic which has seven speeds and paddle shifters on the steering wheel.

The cabin of premium coupes is a vital area for it's here where owners must be reminded that the premium they've paid over more proletarian models has been worthwhile. As you'd expect from a Japanese brand, the build quality is hard to criticise but there are lots of buttons cluttering up the fascia and the cohesion of design that the leading brands achieve isn't quite there.

Three trim levels are at the disposal of G37 Coupe customers. There's a standard model, then comes the GT which adds a little more luxury and the S serves as a sporty range-topper.

That's not to say that any Infiniti customer is likely to feel short-changed. Standard stuff includes an electric sunroof, Bi-Xenon cornering headlights, speed-sensitive power steering, electric front seats, parking sensors, I-Key smart entry, a six-CD stereo, Bluetooth connectivity and 19" alloy wheels.

For £1,300 more, the GT adds leather trim and electric heated seats. The S model has four-wheel-steering, a limited slip differential, firmer suspension, sports seats and upgraded brakes for just under £2,000 over the GT.

The competition for the Infiniti G37 Coupe will be tough. The likes of Audi's A5 and BMW's 3-Series Coupe aren't about to lie down and give a newcomer breathing space. The Infiniti is a little cheaper than the versions of these rivals with equivalent power but it's a lot better equipped so the value proposition could prove crucial. Infiniti will also be banking on the G37's relative exclusivity to give it an edge.

If the Nissan 370Z was well fed, watered and left to mature for a few years, then put through a high-class finishing school to have its hooligan tendencies well and truly ironed out, it would most likely end up looking much as the Infiniti G37 Coupe does.

Football grounds to host rugby cup

FRANKLIN'S Gardens is almost certain to be overlooked to host matches in the Rugby World Cup when it is held in England in 2015, it has been revealed.

The Rugby Football Union (RFU) announced on Tuesday that England would lay on the biggest World Cup to date in six years' time, with up to three million people expected to attend the games.

But due to the size of the crowds it is expected that apart from Twickenham and the Millennium Stadium, in Cardiff, the tournament will use football stadiums such as Wembley and Old Trafford.

A Northampton Saints spokesman said: "It is tremendous news for the game in England.

"The Rugby World Cup has a noticeable effect on the game every four years and having the tournament in England will magnify this.

"As one of the leading clubs in England, Northampton would have loved to have been able to host a game.

"But when you look at the other stadiums that will be hosting matches it emphasises why we need to expand Franklin's Gardens.

"Nevertheless we are sure we will be a part of the tournament in other ways," the spokesman added.

It has been speculated that Franklin's Gardens – which has a reputation for being one of the best rugby stadiums in the country – could be used as a training base for one of the visiting nations.

The Saints announced plans earlier this year to expand Franklin's Gardens to 17,000-seat capacity.

The proposed expansion would be funded by allowing Asda to build a large supermarket on a 980-space car park next to the Saints ground.

As part of the development deal, Asda would give the Saints £6 million for the car park site off Edgar Mobbs Way.

Davis injury is blow for Town

THE Cobblers are hoping Liam Davis can recover quickly from a foot injury that saw him stretchered off in a friendly with Sheffield Wednesday on Tuesday night.

The former Coventry City winger was due to have an X-ray yesterday after being carried off after 30 minutes of the 2-0 defeat.

Concerned manager Stuart Gray said after the game: "He's got a bit of swelling on his foot, and he'll go to have it X-rayed. I think these days it's called a metatarsal injury.

"We don't know too much at this stage but we will know more once I've had the full verdict back from the physios."

Although the injury put a dampener on the evening, Gray was pleased with how well his side performed after the goals – scored by Jermaine Johnson and Francis Jeffers – but felt Johnson's sizzling strike could have been avoided.

"We probably gave them too much respect and I think that showed with the first goal," he said. "We just backed off and backed off, and he decided to have a pop. It was a hell of a strike but the disappointing thing was that we didn't close him down."

John Curtis played the final 20 minutes just hours after committing to the Cobblers in the form of a one-year contract.

Gray was pleased with the signing, especially as Curtis can play in several on-pitch roles, as well as being an influence off the park.

"John has got a fantastic pedigree and we have seen in pre-season the quality he has," said Gray.
